1. Who are Helium
and what is the Helium Hotspot?

Introduction to Helium

- ▶ Helium are an innovative company aiming to build a decentralised wireless network
- ▶ The network is like cellular networks, however, operates at a lower bandwidth
- ▶ Hence, it is optimised for transferring small amounts of data from gadgets such as pet tracking devices and vehicle monitors
- ▶ The network is created by the interaction between multiple Helium Hotspots, pictured to the right.

- ▶ All the information you need regarding helium and their network can be found on their official website in much greater detail; here is also a link to their official advert.

The Helium Hotspot

- ▶ Hotspots interact using LongFi technology, therefore must be placed >300m apart for optimum performance
- ▶ Because the network is decentralised it must verify itself to ensure it is working correctly
- ▶ When Hotspots verify each other, the host is rewarded with a small amount of HNT, which is a cryptocurrency that can be converted into GBP
- ▶ The more hotspots in an area that are interacting with each other, the more each individual hotspot can earn in HNT

4. FAQs

FAQs

- ▶ Will the hotspot impact my internet speed?
 - ▶ The hotspot uses a tiny amount of bandwidth and will not impact your internet speeds
- ▶ Can I host more than 1 hotspot at different addresses?
 - ▶ Yes, we can provide you with more than one hotspot and you sign a contract with us per address you are hosting
- ▶ How much electricity does the hotspot use?
 - ▶ The hotspot has similar running usage to a light bulb and costs roughly £5 to run for the year and we will cover this cost by transferring you an extra £5 in your first payment
- ▶ Can I buy my own hotspot?
 - ▶ Absolutely, there is nothing stopping you from buying your own hotspots and building your own network. However, this takes a large investment and there is a lot of risk involved - something Oliva aims to eliminate for you by using our extensive knowledge and covering all your costs.

FAQs

▶ Can I receive my rewards in HNT instead of GBP?

- ▶ Yes, you can either decide to receive your earnings in GBP or HNT - if you choose HNT we have made a tutorial explain what you need to do in order for us to transfer you your HNT.

▶ Can I treat this as a regular source of income

- ▶ You should not rely on the money you are earning from Oliva - this is because the cryptocurrency market is extremely volatile, and your earnings can fluctuate substantially each month

▶ Do I have to pay tax on my earnings?

- ▶ Yes, you must pay tax on your earnings. Oliva are not financial advisors, and we can therefore not offer you advice on your tax returns. However, as part of our service we provide you with monthly invoices that will assist you with your tax returns
